About Friends of Youth's Youth and Family Services

Friends of Youth provides counseling to youth and their families in Issaquah, Snoqualmie and Duvall. Our services include individual and/or family therapy, depending on the needs of the youth. The counselors at Friends of Youth believe that helping individuals and families identify and build on strengths is an important component of the counseling process.

Counselors meet with youth and parents/caregivers one-on-one and in family sessions. Our counselors are experienced in dealing with many issues including: behavior problems, school difficulties, depression and anxiety, victims of sexual and/or physical abuse, post traumatic stress, anger and conflict management, divorce and blended family challenges, and illness and death of loved ones.
