IHS Administration Updates

Principal - Andrea McCormick

- Parent resource guide in the works. Students finding right school vs the best school. Articles that are hot topics will be included.
- Focusing on pro-active education – looking at ways to best manage schedule changes – attempts to prevent the need for changes; although some are inevitable.
- Educate parents on the importance of social-emotional balance for students when considering course selection as well as how schedule changes are difficult on “our end”.
- Considering: An educational video, also possibility of holding a registration night for students in all grades, as opposed to just 9th graders.
- Remind.com to possibly go schoolwide through email; shows up as a text
- Improving sportsmanship – becoming a bigger issue recently. Seems to be a few students who are trying to see what they can get away with when opponents can hear them. Targeting girls’ figures and color.

- Principal McCormick has received phone calls from administrators of other schools to inform her of the behavior of a small group of students who are responsible for this type of poor sportsmanship.
- Notifying parents that the administration is cracking down on this, and setting boundaries with students. Strictly enforcing the line.
- Administration is working with students to find fun outlets and cheers that aren't hurting others.
- Racism issues handled better within curriculum than in large groups. Social Studies class for 9th graders handling 2 weeks of diversity. Continue to embed diversity issues in curriculum.
- Next Wednesday morning during PSAT's, there will be a Stress Management talk for sophomores and juniors and motivational speaker: Kevin Lau. He will talk about playing NCAA basketball with one arm.
- Grading system – pilot – parent and student feedback. Utilizing grading system similar to one that is used in Canada

Color Run

- With 400 runners and lots of color throwers, this event involved 25% of IHS student body.

Homecoming Dance

- Attended by 1300 student tickets, up by 300 from 1000 two years ago.
- At 8:00, the line was around the building!! Great problem to have.
- Turned a profit for the first time!

October/November/December events

- This month will focus on supporting IHS sports with events like "Cram the Stands"
- To encourage participation - considering giving students punch cards – 5 gets you a prize tee shirt
- Blood drive
- Veterans thank you
- Winterfest – Will occur in December, the week before winter break
  - These will be after school events, not evening so kids can participate without impacting their homework and so they won't have to come back to the school later.
- Clubs fair later in the month – This year it will be a two-part event on a Wednesday, just before school starts and during the two lunch periods.
